WHO IS "BILL" KING?

In connection with the Pacific Mail investigations, our readers have seen and heard a good deal about 'Bill' King late postmaster of the Federal House of Representatives who handled [illegible] of the funds disbursed by Irwin. The Belle Plaine, Iowa, Union tells who King is

We knew William S King upwards of 20 years ago He was then editor of a small paper in Otsego county, N Y Subsequently he went to Minneapolis Minn and started the State Atlas He had a cheap office, but the paper wielded some political influence Fourteen years ago we saw him almost daily during the winter He was then poor—as poor as most country editors of papers not long established are apt to be A year or two later he got elected Postmaster of the House at Washington. He was soon reputed to be rich He bought a fine farm near Minneapolis, erected substantial buildings and collected the best herd of short horns in the West He had much to do with the Northern Pacific railroad, and was accused a few years ago of buying up the support of the St Paul Press in favor of a certain candidate for United States Senator for $30 000 How King made his money we never knew He didn't incline to tell us, and we never p[illegible] him on that point

THE BEAUHARNAIS

DESCENDANTS OF JOSEPHINE

[From the N Y Evening Post.]

The rumor that Napoleon Eugene Louis Jean Joseph the son and heir of the late Louis Napoleon Emperor of the French is about to be betrothed to a daughter of the Russian Grand Duchess Marie revives a passing interest in the fortunes of his family Whatever doubt there may be as to whether any of the Bonaparte blood flowed in the veins of Louis Napoleon there is no question but that his mother was Hortense Eugenie the only daughter of Josephine Through her he was a descendant of the Beauharnais family The Grand Duchess Marie is connected by marriage with the same family her first husband having been Maximilian Joseph Eugene Auguste Napoleon Duke of Leuchtenberg, and Prince of Eichstadt a son of Prince Eugene who was the only brother of Hortense and the only son of Josephine. On the supposition that the young Prince Imperial is to marry a daughter of the Grand Duchess Marie by her first marriage, there would be between blood relations both the boy and the girl being the great grandchildren of Josephine But the Grand Duchess had only two daughters by her first marriage both of whom have been married already for a number of years The proposed marriage, therefore must be with a daughter of the Grand Duchess by her second husband, Count Gregory Stroganoff, to whom she was married on the 16th of November 1856 The Prince himself was born on the 16th of March in the same year so that his proposed wife is probably very nearly his own age She therefore is not related to him either by blood or marriage

Persons familiar with the life of Josephine may recall the prophecy of her future greatness made to her when she was a little girl living at home on the island of Martinique, by an old Obi woman The old soothsayer's sight seems to have been more accurate than that of most of her sisterhood, and persons who perceived a kind of retributive justice for the treatment received by Josephine at the hands of Napoleon Bonaparte in the reappearance in the Tuileries in 1849 of the Empress Josephine in the person of the son of Hortense will see a further exemplification of the divine law in the fact that all the rest of the descendants of the injured wife are allied to reigning families while not one of the house of Bonaparte now occupies any of the thrones to which the great Emperor raised his kindred

Of the two children of Josephine by her first husband Alexandre Vicompte de Beauharnais, Eugene the elder, was born in Paris Sept. 3 1781 Hortense Eugenie was born also in Paris April 10 1783 The Vicompte de Beauharnais died on the scaffold June 23 1794 and about two years afterward March 8, 1796 Josephine was married to Gen Bonaparte Eugene rose with his stepfather's fortunes and on the establishment of the Empire was made a Prince of France, Feb 1, 1805. He was appointed Viceroy of Italy the same year at the age of 24 He married Jan 14, 1806 Augusta Amelie, the daughter of Maximilian I King of Bavaria. When the Empire fell Eugene retired to the court of his royal father in law and devoted the remainder of his life to the education of his children The King bestowed on him Oct 15 1817 the titles of Duke de Leuchtenberg and Prince d'Eichstadt the latter comprising very considerable estates and revenues

Prince Eugene died at Munich Feb 21, 1874 He left the following children 1 Josephine Maximilienne Eugenie Napoleone, born March 14 1807, 2 Eugenie Hortense [illegible], born Dec 23, 1808 3 August Charles Eugene Napoleon, born Dec 9 1810, 4 Amelie Auguste Eugenie Napoleone born July 31 1812 5 Theodolinde Louise Eugenie Auguste Napoleone born April 13 1814 6 Maximilian Joseph Eugene August Napoleon born Oct 2 1817

Josephine the eldest daughter and child of Prince Eugene married [illegible] 1823 Joseph Francois Oscar Crown Prince of Sweden and Norway Oscar was the son of Charles XIV, better known as Gen Bernadotte and of his Queen, Eugenie Bernardine Desiree born Clary the sister of Madame Joseph Bonaparte On the death of his father, Charles XIV, March 8 1844 he succeeded him under the title of Oscar I and the granddaughter of Josephine became Queen of Sweden and Norway The following are her children 1 Charles Louis Eugene, Prince Royal born May 3, 1826 He married June 19 1850 Wilhelmine Frederique Alexandrine Anne Louise Princess of Orange He succeeded his father, Oscar I July 8, 1859 as Charles XV His only child a daughter Louise Josephine Eugenie born Oct 31 1851 married, July 28, 1869, Christian Frederic William Charles Prince Royal of Denmark They have a son born Sept 26 1870 who the descendent of Josephine, is heir to the throne of Denmark Charles XV died Sept 18 1872 and in default of male issue, was succeeded by his brother Oscar Frederic 2 Francois Gustave Oscar born June 18 1827 died early 3 Oscar Frederic born Jan 21, 1829 married June 6 1857 Sophie Wilhelmine Marianne Henriette daughter of William Duke of Nassau He succeeded to the crown on the death of his brother, Charles XV, and now reigns under the title of Oscar II He has three sons and a daughter 4 Charlotte Eugenie Auguste Amelie Albertine born April 24, 1830 5 Nicholas Auguste born Aug 24 1831 married April 16 1864, Therese Duchess of Saxe. The mother of these children, the Queen Dowager Josephine the sole surviving grandchild of the Empress Josephine, is still living at the Court of Sweden.

A GRANGE FESTIVAL.

McMINNVILLE Jan 25 1875

To the Editor of the Oregonian

Some weeks ago it was rumored that there would be an entertainment at the Grangers Hall in McMinnville during the month but nothing definite about it was heard by outsiders until it was right at hand On Thursday of last week stormy as it was the grangers were in town from quite a distance as well as the immediate vicinity busily engaged in preparing their hall for the grand event This hall is an elegant and commodious building completed early this winter It occupies a corner lot and is two stories in height In the west end are double glass doors opening from the street into a large room which is to be occupied very soon as a store by the grangers The members of the order will be able to purchase their goods at a certain per cent advance on cost to pay freight and other expenses

On the north side and near the east end of the building is a door opening into a hall, and stairs leading to the lodge room above, conveniently designed for any secret society In this upper room is a stage with curtains and carpet and a background of the Stars and Stripes. In the lower room were two wide tables full length of the room, which by evening were completely loaded with 'goodies.' Long before the time for the performance, the house was full to overflowing

The first on the programme was music appropriate and well rendered Then an address of twenty minutes sound in doctrine, well prepared, well delivered and received the most profound attention The speaker Mr I N Hibbs is a young man not more than twenty two or three and although not used to public speaking, he did his work well and may be set down as a star in the farmers cause He pointed out the object and nature of the organization of the P of H told what the aim of its members should be, and told what were the desired results The high tariff he claimed injured the country it was not for the benefit of farmers who produce but for manufacturers who simply exchange He showed the advantages of union in the grange, and proved that it was fair dealing with every class and a great help to all classes

Music, declamations, recitations, readings, dialogues etc made a long programme but every piece was good and appreciated There was no delay As soon as one piece was finished another was ready

Mrs Virginia Olds deserves great praise for the planning and management of the affair from the first The little folks deserve praise as well as those who trained them Some—both boys and girls—with rosy cheeks and dimpled chins performed to the pleasure and astonishment of all

THE SUPPER

At 10 o clock all were invited below to supper The long tables were twice filled and not one was without plenty of the best to eat, as only grangers know how to prepare The receipts clear of all expenses were over $80 The price at the door was 25 cents each No loteries or any other means of raising money inside The money goes to furnish the hall

WHEAT STORAGE

The Grangers in this part of Yamhill county and those of Polk near here, are talking of erecting the largest warehouses and storing accommodations for grain in the State at McMinnville No place in the State is better situated for storing grain than this, if shipping was more convenient. The neighborhood of Sheridan, and for several miles on either side is a great wheat country and perhaps is farther from the Wallamet river than any other part of the valley that produces an equal amount of grain McMinnville is by far the most convenient shipping point. St Joe is out of the way, and they can haul to Dayton and points on the Wallamet river After this they will leave the railroad to the cold if they must run out of their course and to a point that affords them no advantage in hauling, just to improve a certain town They will store at McMinnville and improve the Yamhill river and ship by boats

THE CROP PROSPECTS

The farmers are hopeful of an abundant harvest for 18[illegible] The fall sown grain was late in starting to grow but mild weather allowed it to grow all winter It was dry when freezing commenced and the snow covered it so that it will receive no injury whatever The fall was very favorable for plowing there never was at this season of the year so much plowed for spring sowing Whenever the ground gets in order spring work will commence As the rainfall has been much less than common during forepart of the winter much grain is expected in February and March which may make farmers late with their seeding

MISCELLANEOUS

We have had two weeks of first class winter Many old settlers say some days were the coldest they ever saw in Oregon Farmers are generally well prepared with good feed and no loss of stock may be expected Even another winter like '61 2 would be very lightly felt in most of the Wallamet valley The ground is covered with snow at present but from appearances it will soon be gone

The temperance folks in this precinct have a hard time keeping the saloon keeper from getting license to sell liquor in quantities less than a quart They have been fooled so often that they circulate a remonstrance every month whether there is a petition or not They are afraid the other side will manage it on the sly, and secure license for another year

McMinnville College under the management of Prof Mark Bailey is a success this year The attendance is large requiring five teachers This school is under the control of the Baptist denomination It is permanently located at McMinnville, and a fine brick is to be built on their grounds soon Surely no better situation could be found and no better prospect could be desired than it enjoys at present G W

SIMON VS THE STATE TREASURER

PLEBEIAN'S REPLY TO ATTORNEY

SALEM Jan 25 1875

To ATTORNEY In your communication in the OREGONIAN of this date you ask me while I have the floor to explain how the case of Simon vs Brown State Treasurer could have been made up for the express purpose on the part of both plaintiff and defendant of procuring a decision on the question of the applicability of funds in the treasury derived from taxation in 1874-5, to the payment of warrants issued in pursuance of the appropriation law of 1872, in the face of the fact that payment of warrant No 393 was sought out of $7 000 currency alleged in the complaint to have been received into the treasury otherwise than for taxes

Now my object in taking the floor, was to gain some information on that very point It must be borne in mind that the real plaintiffs in this case of Simon vs Brown i e, those who pay the fiddler represent a major part of the $250 000 so-called deficient warrants and that this suit was intended to be a test case, which was to settle the question as to the payment of that large class of warrants out of the first funds to that amount coming into the treasury As to the particular warrant upon which to bring suit the attorney could have taken almost any warrant from No 393 up to No 2 093 and the fact that he chose that particular warrant, and prayed for its payment out of funds in the treasury received otherwise than for taxes when the question his clients wished to determine was the applicability to their payment of funds derived from taxation was one cause of my expression of surprise at the failure of the parties concerned to reach the point, etc and for a solution of your conundrum, I must refer you to the attorney who brought the case whose office is probably within a stone's cast of your own Again, you say

And you will please direct the attention of the bench and bar to the rule of pleading which required an affirmative allegation in the complaint that warrant No 393 was issued in pursuance of the appropriation law of 1872 upon which allegation depends the legality of the warrant

It had been supposed that the legality of the warrant depended upon the question whether there had been an appropriation by law upon which the warrant was drawn, rather than upon the allegations of a complaint

Now what I intended to say, and what any person who breathes an atmosphere not impregnated with the technicalities of the law would understand from the language I used, was that upon such fact depends the legality of the warrant ' and upon a careful perusal of the above paragraphs I am reminded of the sad fate of the victim who accepted of that polite invitation Will you walk into my parlor? said the spider to the fly,' which warns me not to throw my unsophisticated person into the intricate and labyrinthine meshes of the law and rules of practice in the courts but according to the rules of common sense, which should apply with [illegible] to be the perfection of reason ' I would think it necessary for the plaintiff to allege in his complaint a state of facts sufficient, if proven, to entitle him to his prayer. And as to the [illegible] the pleadings show that it was upon that allegation alone that issue was finally joined—viz in the plaintiff's reply [illegible] and the [illegible] applied [illegible] indicate that if the defendant [illegible] of answering had filed a demurrer to the complaint, it would have thrown the plaintiff out of court.

As to your statement of what warrant No 393 shows on its face, you fail to punctuate so that the public may understand that the last clause of your statement [illegible] 'for which an appropriation of $1 000 was made by act of Oct. 24 1872'—does not appear on the face of the warrant and for this very reason it was incumbent upon plaintiff's attorney to inform the court by an allegation in the complaint that warrant No 393 was issued in pursuance of the appropriation law of 1872 '

As to what the court did decide I am happy to say we fully agree. PLEBEIAN.

AN EXTRACT FROM GOV WOODSON'S MESSAGE

Gov Woodson in his retiring message to the legislature has the following, to say in connection with the subject of outlawry in Missouri

Unless the people arouse themselves to a higher perception of duty in respect to the enforcement of the law the arrest of criminals and the prevention of mobs our State will be most seriously injured, and its progress and development greatly retarded. I wish, in this connection to call your attention to my annual message to the adjourned session last winter in reference to the propriety of allowing changes of venue on the part of the State in cases where human life has been taken by mobs and I most earnestly renew the recommendation therein contained upon the subject. I submit the question to you whether it is safe and prudent to allow this state of things to continue We have a city now numbering nearly a half million of inhabitants and in large cities particularly, mobs, when [illegible] assembled are hard to control and nothing short of the strong arm of military power can do it A few thousand desperate men in the absence of a military force, could, with impunity, [illegible] St Louis Again our State lies immediately upon the borders of the Indian Territory the home hiding place and base of operations of so many desperate outlaws A few hundred of these men could invade the sparsely populated counties of the southwest burn the houses run off the horses and carry away the scalps of hundreds of our population before the citizens could organize and prepare to expel them A mob of 500 men anywhere in Central Missouri could for weeks defy all the power that the State could command to disperse them The possession of power to enforce obedience to the laws is of itself a source of security and power The absence of this power and the knowledge on the part of lawless men of this fact is an element of insecurity and weakness and operates as an incentive to the defiance of the constituted authorities. It does seem to me that if it is not a criminal, it is at least a manifest neglect of duty on the part of the legislature to fail in making any provision whatever to enable the State Government to enforce obedience to law when defied or repel invasion should it come What I said in my first annual message upon this subject I beg leave to call your attention to and urge action at your hands in reference thereto

SUITS AGAINST THE RAILWAY COMPANIES—The Chicago Tribune of the 11th says Attorney General Williams will, in the course of a few days commence suit against the Central Pacific railroad for $1 836 635 and against the Union Pacific for $1 040 000 and against other roads smaller sums, aggregating $[illegible],000 The demand for these sums is based upon an act of Congress requiring an annual report of their earnings to the Secretary of the Interior together with the payment by them of 5 per cent of their net earnings to the Government These provisions have been ignored and [illegible] the suits The day of grace has expired and Mr Williams will commence suit forthwith It is just possible that the roads having disposed of their net earnings to individuals will feel disinclined to pay over their share to the government.

A STRANGE CASE

AN ABDUCTED ST PAUL BOY ENQUIRING FOR HIS BROTHER AND FRIENDS FROM WHOM HE HAS NOT HEARD IN SIXTEEN YEARS

The facts contained in the following letter are of such an unusual character but are nevertheless stamped with every air of genuineness that it has been deemed expedient and kind to give them publicity in the columns of the Press, with the hope that the information desired may soon be furnished to the writer Under date of San Francisco California December 20th 1874 a young man signing the name of George W Pratt makes the accompanying statement of his case which can certainly be regarded as a strange one He says

Mr Editor I write these lines for the purpose of asking you to help me find my brothers and relatives, which you can do by making my case known in your paper I was born at St Paul and my father was a blacksmith who had a shop near the old mill [Probably he means Prince's mill which formerly stood near the lower portion of Third street] When I was five years old my father and mother parted, my father going to Red Wing. My mother followed him, and they lived together again for a short time and then separated the children staying with mother

One night my father came in a buggy when my mother was gone, and took away my brother and myself to a little village called Florence. SOME BOURBON LOGIC ANSWERED

The St Paul Press makes a point which will not be easily avoided in reply to the passage in the message of Gov Brown, of Tennessee, referring to the Louisiana troubles The Governor said

Permit me to express my congratulation that unlike the legislative assembly of one of our sister States you have been allowed to assemble peaceably and perfect your organization without intimidation No military surrounds your capital or drive from their seats representatives of the people the edict of party tyrants does not here avail to disperse a State legislature yet your immunity from such outrage is just made more conspicuous by the spectacle of Louisiana trampled under foot and deprived of her liberties

To which the Press replies

Gov Brown has unconsciously touched the exact chord which should be struck The ostensible Democratic idea is that the Republican party through the Administration is determined to maintain Republican supremacy in the South by means of the sword, if necessary but at all hazards Yet Tennessee is confessedly exempt from this alleged tyrannous exercise of military force Nevertheless Tennessee has ten representatives in the national Congress, while Louisiana has but six How easy it would have been on the theory that the army is to be used solely to influence votes to have transferred army operations from the swamps and jungles of Louisiana to the upland arable soil of Tennessee and to have compelled this latter State which is Democratic to be Republican if such result could be attained, at the point of the bayonet"

The Democratic mind appears to be unequal to the task of judging fairly the motives of the Republicans The same partisan prejudices that led the party into all manner of excesses and absurdities in the olden time still linger and still blind its leaders to patent truth We do not agree with those Republicans who endorse the course pursued by the military authorities in connection with the organization of the Louisiana legislature Without the slightest sympathy with the White Leaguers and other disturbers of the peace in that State, certainly without any prejudice against the laws for the protection of the colored people whose emancipation we contributed our mite to accomplish, we still see no possible ground upon which the military interference under the then existing circumstances can be considered legal Threats, or apprehensions of violence, are not violence in contemplation of law and can never be made a ground for Federal intervention in State affairs But on the other hand it seems like the merest childishness to assert that the object of the action of the Federal government in taking the course it did take was to force the Southern people to support the Republican party To attempt to accomplish such a purpose by such means would be sheer nonsense The matter admits of a much simpler solution The Government, through the rascalities of Kellogg and Durell in 1872 and the imbecility of the so-called conservatives who were managing the opposition side of the case, was led to recognize the Kellogg usurpation as the Government of Louisiana, and the various events that have followed have all been so linked with that fact, that one step has followed another as a natural sequence down to the present state of affairs, The Government has drifted to its present position rather than deliberately adopted it, and they who fancy they perceive in its action in this case evidence of a far-reaching design to seize the governments of the Southern States and compel the people to support the Republican party are in our judgment, quite as far from a true comprehension of the case as they who took fright at their own shadows and rushed to the military for succor

READ THIS LONG ARTICLE AND MAKE UP YOUR OWN MIND

Two or three times the OREGONIAN has personally referred to the political sentiments of the editor of this paper the substance of the charges being that we have been very independent and very liberal We do not stop to deny or controvert any personal matter —Bulletin

Thus the ring organ replies to the statement published in the Salem Record and transcribed into the OREGONIAN by which it was proved that the present editor of the ring organ was the author of an urgent call upon the people last spring for the independent movement It certainly sounds well to hear a paper which has been notorious for offensive personality and scurrility, and which [illegible] other paper in the State, has disregarded all the courtesies of journalism whining and sniveling about "personal matters," because other papers have seen proper to show up the inconsistency of its editor's political professions Probably this is the first time in the history of newspaper controversies that a reference to the political antecedents of a political editor has been taken as a "personal matter" in the offensive sense in which the editor of the ring organ takes it Some people may smile at the idea of the Portland Bulletin being the first to make this new and refined distinction in favor of high-toned journalism and may think it looks more like merely a new mode of dodging and begging the question both at once We are truly sorry the editor of the ring organ is so extremely sensitive, and we should never have "personally referred to his political sentiments"—whatever that expression may mean—if we had supposed he was so much ashamed to have those sentiments referred to

But there is a disingenuousness in the beginning of the Bulletin on this subject which deserves exposure and which we purpose now to expose even at the risk of further personally referring to the editor's political sentiments and we are mistaken if our readers do not come to the conclusion, upon seeing all the facts that in spite of his assumed sensitiveness on the subject he either has no political sentiments or has such as sit easily too upon him for any charge of [illegible] to hurt him much

He says we have referred to his political sentiments Our readers know it is his political actions we have referred to showing him to have been at the [illegible] as one of the very foremost in getting up the very independent movement which he has been since engaged in denouncing as uncalled for and unjustifiable Is not this statement herein disingenuous and essentially untrue?

But he proceeds to say that we have charged him with being very independent and very liberal This is the barest and lamest trick of words to make falsehood out of truth that we have seen for many a day—notwithstanding we have read the Portland Bulletin some of late We said not that he was "very independent and very liberal," but that he wrote and published in the Willamet Farmer last spring a spirited call for the people to rally to the independent movement exhorting them to throw off their allegiance to the old parties and nominate and elect officers independently of both the old organizations That was our statement and it needs no further analysis to show up the trick in the Bulletin man's reply It is very commendable to be "very independent and very liberal" in political matters, inside or outside of party organizations and we should never think of making that charge against an opponent, but to be "very" foxy and "very" unreliable doubling on one's own track at short intervals and joining with those who cry "stop thief" to the very persons one has just been in partnership with—that is another thing

The ring organ having offered no specific denial of the facts alleged in regard to its editor's connection with the independent movement last spring it may seem superfluous for us to offer evidence on the point But the OREGONIAN however it may err in matters of opinion, is generally right on its facts and desires to be so understood We therefore take the liberty of producing a little of the evidence—we have any amount of it—to prove the truth of what we have averred, and to exhibit the peculiar course of the individual who manifests such unnatural tenderness on the subject of his "political sentiments" Here are excerpts, including the heading, of the appeal issued by the ring editor which, with the same simple minded ingenuousness that characterizes his course now was dated at Mill creek Marion county though written at Portland

A Call

OR AN INDEPENDENT STATE CONVENTION WITH THE REASONS FOR THE MOVEMENT

MILL CREEK, Marion Co Feb 11 1874

Editor of the Farmer The card of the Douglas county Independents recently published in your paper has created such a rattling among the political dry bones of those parts that it has been almost the sole theme of conversation among all classes ever since its appearance The patriotic sentiments couched in the decisive and commanding language of the call sounds not unlike the sharp and rapid reveille of a surprised army arousing to meet the enemy in deadly conflict Nor is this simile inappropriate in many other respect For many years the whole business of the government, and the management of all the great interests of the people has been given up to professional politicians It has made no difference which party was in power the politician, the man who has made politics his trade and occupation has made the laws and executed them to his own profit and convenience, until the country is now oppressed by all the evils of bad laws and corrupt administration Within the last five years with scarcely any increase in our population, without corresponding increase in the necessary expenses of administering the laws or public improvements to account for the expenditure our State and county expenses have nearly doubled, while large public debts are unpaid and the cancer of ten per cent interest, day and night, eating into the vitals of the people, now confront their astonished vision and like another Shylock demand the pound of flesh This state of affairs has not been brought about in a day, but it has stolen in on the people as a thief in the night and having flanked them on one side by "our party" and on the other side by "your party" the army of precinct bummers and bread and butter officers are now bearing down in front hoping to again capture the voters and tax payers, for the pleasure of carrying their purposes It is at this juncture, that from over the mountains of Southern Oregon— Montani semper liberi (mountaineers are always freemen) from the beautiful valleys of the Switzerland of America, a noble Swiss guard springs to the front, flings the banner of the people to the gale, beats to arms and demands organization

* * * * * * *

Now the Douglas county men have broken the thraldom of party managers, unfurled the banner of honest and independent action in political as well as all other matters and show us the way Let us walk therein It is not to Grangers as such, or farmers as such or mechanics as such, that I would appeal but to all the industrial classes without regard to party or occupation If you submit to your party leaders you must vote the ticket they nominate and swallow the programme of the ring The politicians have resolved to prolong their power over the people The central committees of both parties have their machinery in motion to whip in votes to the support of their candidates and schemes But what have they to offer? One side cries out "give us the offices" and the other side cries out "give us the offices" Neither of the two political parties have been faithful to their very latest promises as to the repeal of the "salary grab" One party has elected a "grabber" President of the Senate, while another party cast all its votes for another "grabber" to be Speaker of the House! thus doing all in their power to render the infamy of that thieving swindling law respectable and honorable

Seeing therefore no hope of reform from politics whose interests are opposed to reform and taking counsel of the movement of the Douglas county farmers, permit me, as one citizen of Oregon resident on her soil ever since the stars and stripes were first unfurled at Champoeg, to appeal to the farmers, mechanics merchants and laboring men, without distinction of party ties, to unite in a State movement to throw off the dominion of the political traders and parasites of the country, and rising above all prejudices to labor together to elect such State, district and county officers and members of the legislature, as will reduce our taxes relieve our industries and bind monopolies down to reason and fair play, and honestly and economically administer the affairs of State and county And to that end let me suggest that the people elect from among themselves two delegates from each precinct in the State to meet at Salem in State Convention on Monday March the 16th 1874 to nominate State and district tickets independent of both political parties.

The working taxpaying classes everywhere throughout the United States are organizing for self defense. This has to be done here in Oregon sooner or later, and the sooner the better The day named will secure a convention of the people prior to either conventions of the politicians and they can then either indorse the action of the people or oppose it

The document closed with a request that all papers not opposed to the movement should copy this appeal

This article is too long we fear for the pleasure of our readers, and we are sure it is longer than the ring editor would have it but it seemed necessary to set out the course of the ring paper in its true light, and let all see—if there are any who have not known before—the shallowness of the ring organ's professions of party loyalty

---

We have taken pains to collect from some of our latest exchanges facts in regard to the state of the weather in the Eastern States and have arrived at the conclusion that Oregon is a tropical climate instead of the cold region we have of late thought it At Chicago on the 9th inst the mercury marked 23° below zero at Cairo 11 below at Springfield 24° below at Sioux City Iowa 25° below at DesMoines 22° below at St Paul Minn 29° below at Madison Wis [illegible] below at Omaha Neb 21° below at Cheyenne 8° below These are all extreme figures but they are so far below our lowest as to exhibit Oregon as a decidedly warm climate

YOUNG GERRAND'S CASE

On next Friday, unless Governor Grover interfere to prevent the execution of the sentence passed upon young Gerrand that unfortunate young man will expiate on the gallows the murder of Thomas Hubbard There is we understand a very strong sentiment in the community about Salem where the trial took place in favor of a commutation of the punishment to imprisonment for life As a general rule we have been opposed to applications for pardon or commutation of sentence The pardoning or commuting power is always liable to be exercised to the injury of community and to the hindering of justice The argument of mercy is a hard argument to answer in nearly every case In this case of Gerrand's there appear to be some reasons that do not exist in most cases for the exercise of executive clemency We have heard different stories in regard to the circumstances of the homicide and are disposed to accept the verdict of the jury as most likely to indicate what the evidence did really show But we are informed by Col I R Moores and Hon Rufus Mallory who called upon us yesterday that Gerrand is a youth—only 18 years old—of less than average intelligence and with far less discretion than might be expected in one of his age that he is a half breed or quadroon uneducated morally and intellectually It really seems that humanity would be shocked by his execution under the circumstances It would be quite different if he were a man of ripe age and experience and good intelligence Contrary to our views of the propriety of executive interference in most cases, we should feel that the Governor was justifiable if he should conclude to commute the sentence of this youth to imprisonment at hard labor for life

THE NATIVE RACES

Mr J S Dickinson, an old and well known citizen of this county is engaged in canvassing for subscriptions for Mr Hubert H Bancroft's great work "The Native Races of the Pacific Coast," of which we have spoken heretofore At the time we called attention to this work before, as we then remarked, we had seen only portions of the first volume, and could not speak with that confidence of its general merits that would have been possible after an examination of the work Since then we have examined it with some care, and are fully confirmed in the high opinion formed of it from what we had seen before It is beyond question the most exhaustive and thorough work ever written concerning the native tribes of America and one of the greatest achievements in book making on this side the Atlantic It will be standard authority on questions of fact relating to the subjects of which it treats, after this generation shall have passed away

[illegible] MORNING, JAN. 27, 1875.

CITY.

[illegible]—The union services were [held at the] First Baptist church last evening [by] Rev. R. Bentley, who chose as his [text the] miracle of the blind man [illegible] to wash in the pool of Siloam. [He] spoke in an interesting and im[pressive manner] of the miracle performed and [the lessons to] be derived from it. His re[marks were] listened to with deep interest. [The rest of] the meeting was of a more gen[eral character], consisting principally of prayer [illegible] with some few brief but inter[esting] experiences; after which, an [opportunity] was given to those who desired the prayers of Christians. Some [rose], after which prayer was offered [by] earnest Christians in their behalf. [illegible] for a daugh[ter] before the meeting closed, the [illegible] professed faith in the Savior. [The] hour meeting held at the close of [the] meeting was by far the most inter[esting that] has been held in Portland, and it [is hoped] that Christian people will fol[low the] plan adopted in that meeting, and [illegible] this evening to speak to their [friends] about their souls' interests. [The meeting] this evening will be held in the [Congrega]tional church, led by Rev. A. L. [Lindsley].

[illegible] ATTIRE.—About 8 o'clock on [illegible] evening, three [illegible] were [illegible] At the first glance they [illegible] but by the style of walking, and [the m]anner in which the members of the [illegible] of the feet, and after fol[lowing] the party about for a little while, he [was] convinced that they were men or boys [dressed] up in women's clothes. He accord[ingly arres]ted the interesting trio, when they [proved] to be three young chaps, named re[spectively] W. B. Anderson, Joseph Petty and [illegible]han. O'Hara felt such an interest [in the young] men's welfare, that he marched [the]m to jail where they were provided [with quarter]s for the night. Yesterday morn[ing the young]sters were brought before the [court] just in the clothes they had on, and not being able to offer any [excuse for their] unusual conduct on the [illegible] committed to jail for five [days. A change] of apparel has been fur[nished them], and before the term of their [imprisonment is] broken, these young fellows will [tire] of wearing dr[esses]. The ex[periment will] result otherwise than salutary.

[illegible]LAME.—On Monday night a[illegible] lodged at police headquarters [illegible]line Kennard [aga]inst her hus[band, charging] him with assaulting her. [illegible] and lodged in jail for [the night]. Yesterday morning the case was [called in] court. To the surprise of [illegible] and appeared in court in [an] [illegible] condition, and, when [placed on] the stand, "went back" on all [she had said] in the complaint. When in[duced] to testify against her [husband she said] he was a good man and [illegible] in any way. The court had [no alternative but] to dis[charge] the prisoner [and proceed] against the prosecuting wit[ness]. Before leaving the jail, [Mrs. Kenn]ard became very angry, [and used] the most vile and abusive [language] and oaths, which cul[minated in her arrest]. She was placed in a [cell, locked] up and [illegible] $20 [bail for appearance] this morning, was released. [illegible] to answer the [illegible]

[illegible]nday evening, [illegible] thief walked [illegible] portion of the city, [illegible] Quite [illegible] as a matter of course, [illegible] While engaged in [illegible] walked away. It [illegible] is only one of [illegible] on the safe side and always on the inside.

[illegible] FROM.—A few days ago a [illegible] Mr. A. D. Richmond, [illegible] T. Co's [line] in this district. [illegible] started from [illegible] and overhaul the [line] from that place to Sacramento. [He finish]ed the walk about six weeks [illegible] line in the northern part of [illegible] Having com[pleted the] line a few weeks ago, Mr. Rich[mond went] to San Francisco, where he is [illegible] He is now connected with the [illegible] of the country, and will [illegible] make San Francisco his head[quarters].

[illegible] OUT.—We understand that the en[tire stock] of pictures [illegible] belonged to Geo. A. Steel [illegible] was purchased yesterday by Messrs. [illegible] & Stolte and Mr. Morse, who propose [to engage] for the future in the picture busi[ness] in connection with their photographic [illegible] Messrs. G. A. [THE] [illegible] REVIVALIST. REV. E. P. HAMMOND.

AN [EFFORT] BEING MADE BY THE CHURCHES OF [PORTLAND] TO INDUCE THE NOTED EVANGELIST TO VISIT THE CITY—TELEGRAMS—A SKETCH OF THE REVIVALIST.

Rev. E. P. Hammond, who has awakened such a lively interest on the subject of religion in California for a few months past, has been invited to visit Portland before his return East, and hold a series of revival meetings. A few days since the following dispatch was forwarded to W. S. Ladd, Esq., who, with his family, is now in San Francisco:

PORTLAND, Jan. 23, 1875.

To W. S. Ladd:—See Evangelist Hammond; urge him to come here. Five churches have united, holding noon-day prayer meetings; also union meetings five evenings a week. Considerable interest. When can he come? By authority of five churches.

GEN. O. O. HOWARD,
WM. WADHAMS.

Yesterday morning the following dispatch was received in response to the above:

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26, 1875.

To Gen. O. O. Howard and Wm. Wadhams:—Rev. Mr. Hammond is at San Jose at present. He will be here next week. Has engagements ahead until April. (Signed,) W. S. LADD.

Although the response is rather unfavorable, and will be a source of disappointment, in a measure, to the members of the various evangelical denominations, it is not improbable that Mr. Hammond may yet visit Portland. When he reaches San Francisco he will be waited upon by Mr. Ladd, who will doubtless urge the great revivalist in the strongest manner to comply with the united request made by the churches of Portland.

SKETCH.

The following sketch of the life and ministerial labors of Rev. E. P. Hammond, we obtain from the Occident of the 16th inst.:

He is a native of Connecticut and a graduate of [illegible] College. [illegible] his graduation he studied theology for a while in New York city; then went to the seminary of the Free Church at Edinburgh, Scotland. While a student at Edinburgh he was invited to hold meetings in a vacant church in a village six miles distant. Here he labored so earnestly and wisely that there was a great religious awakening; hundreds, not only of children, but of men and women of that Scottish village, were converted. Ministers in Edinburgh, Glasgow, Aberdeen and other cities, heard of this wonderful revival; they recognized in the youthful evangelist a man called of God to a special work; they invited him to their pulpits; they encouraged him to hold special services, at which they assisted him, in halls that would hold immense audiences, and in the open air. Thousands and tens of thousands who never entered the churches were drawn to these meetings, and many of them [became] Christians. After laboring thus two years in Scotland, going only where the ministers and churches invited him to go, not setting himself up as a leader, but yielding to the urgency of the ablest and best men of the land, that he should use the special gifts with which God had endowed him, in the special department of ministerial work to which he was so manifestly called, he returned to his native land.

After five years of evangelical labor in New England and the Middle States, Mr. Hammond again went abroad. He traveled in Europe and in Palestine. He spent many months holding meetings in England, Scotland and Ireland. He preached daily for sixteen weeks in London to immense audiences, and part of the time in Spurgeon's Tabernacle, which, though it will seat 6,000 persons, was full night after night.

Since Mr. Hammond's return from Europe the second time, he has been laboring extensively in the West. He has held meetings in scores of towns and cities, from Minneapolis, in Minnesota to Galveston, Texas, and from the shores of Lake Erie, to Denver, among the mountains. He has gone to none of these places without a special invitation. Wherever he has gone, the meetings have been undenominational, and the various evangelical churches have been drawn together in brotherly love and cordial co-operation.

One of the most successful of Mr. Hammond's meetings was at St. Louis, last winter. The largest halls in the city were crowded day after day, and one of the pastors has recently stated that over 7,000 persons were added to the churches of St. Louis as the result of these special services. Mr. Hammond comes to this coast in fulfillment of a promise made some months ago, although he had pressing invitations to labor this winter in Chicago and Washington.

STATE OF THE WEATHER.

By dispatch we learn that the weather is as follows at the points named last evening at 6:30 o'clock:

[illegible]—Thermometer, 22°; clear and cold.

Seattle—Thermometer, 32°; freezing; clear.

Kalama—Going to freeze to-night; thermometer, 30°; no immediate prospect of river opening for the present.

Tacoma—Freezing; clear; temperature not known.

Olympia—Clear during the day; cold at night; temperature not known.

Steilacoom—During the day clear, but cold at night; temperature unknown.

Salem—Weather clear and still; ice all out of the river; wind from the north, with indications of snow. Water out of doors froze last night to the depth of 1½ inches; will freeze hard to-night.

Albany—Clear, still and cold; indications that it will freeze harder than it did last night. There is no ice in the river.

Yreka—Clear and cold as Iceland; it has thawed but little to-day.

Roseburg—Clear and cold; temperature not known.

Oakland—Clear and cold, freezing hard; wind from the north; looks some like more snow.

Marysville—Clear and cold; north wind blowing strong.

St. Jo—Weather moderating.

Junction—Clear and cold.

The following is the state of the weather up the Columbia last evening:

Walla Walla—Clear; thermometer, 20°.

Wallula—Little cloudy; thermometer, 20°.

Dalles—Cloudy; thermometer, 19°.

Cascades—Clear; thermometer, 25°.

Umatilla—Clear; thermometer, 23°.

MILITARY [ITEMS].

From the Spirit of the West of Jan. 16, we glean the following items:

Lieut. Hoag is lying dangerously ill at the garrison.

The quartermaster is preparing to gather an ice crop.

The thermometer at the garrison fell to 26 degrees below zero.

Acting assistant surgeon Durrah has reported at the garrison for duty, and is preparing to reside there.

The depot at Newport Ky., is receiving recruits for infantry at the rate of three a day since the 1st inst.

Recruiting depots are now opened in the departments of the Pacific Coast, and one for the 1st cavalry at Sacramento, Cal.

Camps Grant and Gaston, Cal., are to be broken up, and the commands stationed there are to be transferred to Angel Island, Cal.

Sergeant Shaffenberger has been appointed first sergeant of Company L, 1st cavalry, vice Sergeant Morgan, appointed regimental quartermaster sergeant, 1st cavalry, at Benicia. The appointment of Sergeant Shaffenberger gives universal satisfaction.

[LOCAL] SOCIAL EVENTS.

This evening the Grand Army of the Republic give one of their enjoyable soirees at their hall. No doubt the attendance will be large, as usual.

The masquerade last evening, at City Rifles Hall, under the auspices of the Arcadian Base Ball Club, proved a greater success than those managing the affair least anticipated. Some thirty masquers appeared on the floor, while the seats and spare standing room was occupied by curious ones who came to see and take part at an appointed hour. The ladies were largely represented, which must have been gratifying to the management. The hall was quite too small for an affair of the kind. Without further introductory, we give a partial list of those who appeared en masque: Miss Katie Christie, Arcadian god; Miss Della A. Olds, Winter; Mrs D. K. Halpruner, Prince of Wales; Miss Mary Curran, peasant girl; Miss Nellie Kearney, OREGONIAN; Miss Lizzie Hyde, lady in white; Miss Celia Curran, fire boy; Mrs. J. M. Baltimore, domino; Miss Lizzie Hyde, page; Mrs. Henry McCraken, page; Julius Goldsmith, officer; H. V. Yates, Frank McCormick and John Dougherty, fire laddies; John O'Connor, granger; Al. Church, almighty dollar; Henry McCraken, sailor; W. A. Hart, Bismarck (distinguishe); Isadore Gumbert, Spaniard; Ben Teal, Bobby Newcomb, as the "girl with the curl" (well personated); E. Wincnet, Missourian; Charles F. Speck, butcher; Harvey Hyde, domino; W. J. Quirk, English swell, well dressed; Charles Abraham, Irish Pat; W. Halpruner, Portland band.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Skating was resumed yesterday on the river opposite the city.

We learned the other day that Mr. George Weidler arrived at Astoria on the 21st inst.

The steamer Beaver is reported loading wheat for Portland at Fairfield, but she will hardly reach here for several days yet.

The doll bride now exhibited at the White House has been donated to the ladies' fair to be held at Philharmonic hall on the 15th prox.

The schooner Dreadnought and [illegible] Rival are at Astoria, but the bark Menshikoff, now out from San Francisco about 25 days, was not reported at last advices.

The Sons of Love and Charity, at a recent meeting, passed resolutions thanking those who attended and aided them in their entertainment on New Year's evening.

It seems yet uncertain whether the bark Midas will reship her cargo at San Francisco or make another effort to come to Portland. Her consignees here have not been advised as yet.

A trunk containing the effects of a well known vocalist were sold a few days ago to satisfy a claim. An elegant velvet coat, worth over fifty dollars, was knocked down at twelve dollars.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Honeyman & Co. are fully prepared to execute orders for machinery, castings, etc. They have recently extended their shops, which enables them to accomplish more, in less time, than heretofore. Their work is a No. 1 and it gives us pleasure to note the fact. Much more could not be said in their favor.

Something new!—No office or desk complete without it. "What?" our readers will ask. We cannot better explain than by referring them to our new and handsome (?) cut in the advertising column: An old gentleman, peering over a peculiar shaped figure, which bears the instruction, "Stick it under my nose." While your curiosity is aroused, reader, find the advertisment, peruse it, and [illegible] to J. K. Gill & Co.'s store and buy one. He has 'em for sale. Retail price only 25 cents. After you have purchased a half a dozen of these books, take a look at the beautiful valentines in his show windows. If you look you cannot resist the temptation to buy. Remember the place—J. K. Gill & Co.'s, No 75 First street.

POSTAL MATTERS.

Written visiting cards, singly or in packages, if sent by mail, are subject to letter postage.

The postoffice will not be removed for at least two months, owing to the fact that the furniture is to come from the East.

A [illegible] having such [illegible] therein a postal card, containing a written communication, would, if sent by the mails, be subject to letter postage.

Matter enclosed in sealed envelopes notched at the ends and sides, or with the corners cut off, cannot be mailed, except at letter rates of postage.

New postoffices in Oregon: McKenzie and Gate creek, Lane county; Jewell, Clatsop county; Stone, Baker county; Cleveland, Douglas county.

The Fairbanks scales have been adopted by the postal department for the use of the various postoffices. The contract is a big one, but the bid on the different sizes was very low.

UNION MEETINGS.

Wednesday evening—At Congregational Church, led by Rev. A. L. Lindsley.

Friday evening—At Presbyterian Church, led by Rev. D. J. Pierce.

Service to commence each evening at 7:30 P. M. The bells of each church will be rung at the appointed hour.

A service of special prayer will be held half an hour before the general service.

Daily union prayer meetings will be held at the Y. M. C. A. rooms at 12 M. each day.

There will be a prayer meeting in the pastor's study at the First Baptist Church each evening of the week for the benefit of those attending Chinese school.

Eight per cent. interest is allowed on time deposits by DeLASHMUTT & OATMAN, Retail Bankers.

The winter is fairly upon us. We must keep warm no matter what the cost. Don't go about like a frozen man, but straighten up and boldly enter the establishment of BECK & WALDMAN, and ask them to show you those heavy winter goods. They'll do it, and what's more, will not astonish you with big prices because of the cold weather. On the contrary, they propose to make their patrons happy by clothing them well, and at the same time charging a low price to suit the present times. Don't wait until it is too late, but go now.

If you would keep warm buy yourself a big Overcoat, Gloves, and last but not least, good Underclothing, all of which KOHN, opposite the National Bank, keeps in large quantities. You can be suited without a doubt. In addition to the above he has a fine assortment of Dress Suits, Furnishing Goods. The prices are down—like the thermometer is just now. Don't wait until the winter is over and be in misery, but buy now while the prices are down.

Healthful Stimulation.

Diffusable stimulants, provided they be absolutely pure, are among the most useful medicinal agents employed by physicians. When the tone of the system is lowered by the depressing influences of disease, or there is an inherent want of vigor in the constitution, they serve to counteract weakening tendencies, and cheer the mind of the desponding invalid. But when, as in the case of Hostetter's Bitters, they possess tonic and alterative properties, their effects are rendered permanent, and they accomplish a trebly beneficial result. The Bitters not only relieve nervous debility and mental depression by their healthfully stimulative action, but infuse abiding vigor into the depleted system, and rectify those internal disturbances which are the real causes of weakness. The purity and the wholesomeness of the alcoholic basis of the Bitters greatly increases the efficacy of their botanic ingredients, a fact which the completeness of their curative effects sufficiently demonstrates.

Irritated Lungs obtain relief from JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.

[REVIEW] OF SOUTHERN OREGON.

The developments recently made by prospectors in the Galice creek region, and particularly on the "Yank" or Mammoth ledge, are beginning to excite interest and the attention they deserve. We have always had confidence in the worth of the ledge (or ledges, for there are others disclosed besides the Yank ledge), but as nothing has been done until lately to definitely prove the worth of the mines, and not desiring to participate in the getting up of an unwarranted excitement, and consequent rush and suffering at this time of year, without being able to state truths that would be incontrovertible, we have refrained from saying much in the matter. But claim-owners have been busily engaged in developing the original ledge as far and as fast as the weather and circumstances would permit, until now the richness of the ledge is as surely established as its extent, and of proportionate character. Surveyors have chained the ledge where it proved 210 feet in width, and nowhere is it less than one hundred feet on the croppings. Parties have visited it from California, Nevada and other mining regions, and unite in asserting it the largest ledge ever discovered. As yet little else than the croppings have been tested, yielding, according to selection, from a trifle to $500 per ton. We have seen ore from various portions of the ledge which compares favorably with the best specimens from the Comstock. It is asserted by experienced miners that the ledge will pay to work all the way across. We have been shown some ore taken from one of the veins, which was five feet in width, which is almost pure silver. The ledge—that is the croppings—shows numerous veins of rich ore running all through it, from one to ten feet in width, and it is supposed, judging from experience in other mines, that these veins will all unite and form one compact body of rich ore at a certain depth. Mr. Raymond, of the famous Raymond & Ely mine of Nevada, we are told visited the ledge a few days since, and remarked that he "had traveled a long way to see that ledge, and would travel 2,000 miles to see a larger one, if it could be found, even if he knew there was nothing in it." He pronounced it the largest ledge in the world.

So confident are claim-owners that they have a good thing that they are ordering mills. Two are now on the way, and more will be brought up as soon as the roads from the south can be traveled with heavily-loaded wagons. Reynolds & Co. have a 40-stamp mill on the way, and a California company have a 50-stamp mill coming. There is room enough on the ledge as it is now developed to occupy a hundred mills of the largest size, and employ 10,000 men. Wood and water are abundant, and a wagon road is being constructed from the stage road on the north to the ledge. The distance from this point is about sixty miles, and a road will be opened up in the spring. A large portion of it is already constructed, and the remainder of it can soon and easily be built.

There are various other ledges in the same range of mountains, and but a few miles distant, that are being prospected, but as yet no definite results have been produced of their worth. About fifteen miles of the Yank ledge are claimed. The late snow storm, which fell to a considerable depth all over the mountains of that country, has temporarily retarded prospecting for other ledges, but the succeeding warm weather is fast melting it away. There are as yet few accommodations for man or beast at Galice creek, but boarding houses and livery stables will be in full blast within a couple of months. We anticipate a rush as soon as the weather will permit traveling with comfort. Those who intend furnishing their own supplies and camping out cannot subsist there at all, as there are few facilities for getting packing done, and there is no grass to support animals. Nick Thoss, one of the original discoverers, writes to his partner here (Jo. Wetterer) that he has smelted lots of bullion from his mine, and if Jo. desires proof of the fact he will send him up some hundreds as soon as he can find a way to transport it.

We also hear of some very rich discoveries of silver ore and cinnabar on Louse, Cayote and Grave creeks, and prospectors are ranging the hills hunting after the ledges as well as the snow will permit.

GOSSAMER SPIDERS

Who has not noticed with curious interest in the mild sunny days of autumn the sudden appearance of myriads of the fine [illegible] cobwebs floating in the air and spread over the whole surface of the ground? They are so tenuous as to be scarcely visible except in a strong light,—these driven by the wind sometimes striking the face and making themselves palpable to the touch when they are almost imperceptible to the eye, and those on the ground, or stretching from leaf to leaf and twig to twig, revealing their presence rather by the diamonds of dew they have caught in their meshes than by the threads which enter into their texture. The origin of these gossamer webs has been a good deal of a puzzle to naturalists, and various theories accounting for them have been [illegible]. In the [illegible] century it was demonstrated by Dr. Hulse and Dr Lister that these delicate tissues were constructed by certain species of spiders, but the observations of these naturalists did not for a long time meet with due credit. It is not now decisively known whether the gossamers floating in the atmosphere and those fixed to the earth are produced by the same or different species.

Dr G Lincecum, of Texas, has lately communicated to the Smithsonian Institute some interesting discoveries regarding the floating gossamers, which are printed, by consent of Dr Henry, in the October Naturalist. According to him, the architect of these shadowy balloons is a "grayish-pea-green" spider, with rather long legs and a weight of about 2 grains. It is quick in its movements and timid in its nature, dropping its work and darting out of sight at the approach of a stranger. Dr Lincecum has enjoyed the opportunity of watching the work of the spiders in building these balloons, and describes it with careful particularity. From his observations, he demonstrated that the gossamer is spun with the intention of sailing through the air, and conveying its weaver and her progeny to distances which could not otherwise be [illegible]. It is like the enchanted [illegible] of the Arabian Nights,—the [illegible] half-dozen young ones, [illegible] upon it, cutting its fastenings, soaring aloft, and guiding its passage to the points desired by means of skillfully-managed rudders and sails.

Dr Lincecum has noted that, in Texas, these balloons begin to ascend at about 1 o'clock, and for the succeeding three hours, are to be seen at various altitudes, sailing in the direction of the wind. Each balloon is furnished with two long lines at the forward end, which probably aid in keeping the craft in an equable position. On board each aerial bark is a mother spider and a half-dozen or more little ones. About 4 o'clock the balloons begin to descend, whirling slowly downwards until they lodge in some tall weed or tuft of grass, when the [illegible] instantly leap out, and swing themselves, by means of a thread, to the ground. Sometimes these balloons sail at a rapid rate on the wind, at an altitude of 1,000 or 2,000 feet. One cannot tell of them any more than of the wind, whence they come or whither they go, but it is conjectured that they may travel 150 or 200 miles.

Dr Lincecum once watched a gossamer spider building its balloon on the [illegible] of an outside door shutter. While she was at work she was carrying about with her [illegible], but clinging to her thorax—a cluster of little baby spiders. Loving, faithful little mother, did she feel as tired and worn when her task was done, and she had cast her bark afloat, as many a human mother does when the day's task is over, and her troop of lads and lassies are at last tucked up under the coverlid?

MUSICAL IF NOT RELIGIOUS.—It must be highly pleasing to behold how good it is for "brethren to dwell together in unity," but one must step outside of Centenary to enjoy such a sight just now. Nast in his palmiest days never had a better opportunity to depict the absurdities and inconsistencies of the Catholic church in New York than is now offered at Centenary. The latest scene enacted there discloses the friends of Rev J F Chaffee and his enemies lugging respectively a $65 silver cornet and a $500 piano, located in the church at opposing angles or points singing, "You can't have any of my peanuts when your peanuts are gone," or acting something else just suitable to the time and place. It seems that the church had a piano rented at $50 per year—two years just being due at last accounts. That piano was seized by the non-admirers of Rev. Mr Chaffee, Rev Jabez Brooks' friends, and the $500 planked down, when they are supposed to "hold over" Mr Chaffee's friends, who, to become even, go for a $65 cornet, on which $15 was paid by the opposing party, and planking down the $15, are in possession by right of ownership of the cornet end of the dilemma. Thus the matter stands. Meanwhile the newly elected chorister declines to serve, so that, although "music is in the air" it shows no variety.

A HORSE THAT RUNS A MILK ROUTE.—The editor of the Maine Farmer gives an account of a knowing horse in the employ of a Mr Pullen, a milkman near Augusta, in that State. The horse is nine years old and has been driven over the city route daily for the past year or two.

Knowing this horse to be an unusually intelligent one Mr Pullen one morning after starting on his route, let the reins remain in the hook in the top of his wagon to see what the horse would do. He had his own way in coming into the city, stopped regularly at 34 customers without a mistake, then went to the postoffice, thence to the store of E Haskell, Esq—where Mr Pullen is in the habit of stopping—and then took up his route home, where he arrived safe. Mr Pullen not once having touched the reins from the time he left home. Is not this pretty well for a horse? And could an ordinary milkman do better? Mr Pullen says any variation in the route, such as new customers or a change of residence, is readily learned by the horse in four days, after which he never makes a mistake. Who could blame Mr Pullen for thinking a heap of such a horse as this and who does not respect him for saying that he shall keep that horse so long as he is fit for service and then keep him afterwards so long as he is able to eat well—and then gently dispatch him to the place where good horses go?

A GOOD DEODORIZER.—The most common and availing disinfectant and deodorizer is copperas. Crude copperas sold by druggists at a few cents a pound under the name of sulphate of iron, one pound to two gallons of water, to be used as often as necessary to render all odors imperceptible, acting at the same time as antiseptic, deodorizer and disinfectant, and if instantly thrown over what passes from the body in cholera is one of the cheapest and best means known for preventing its communication to others.

A MEASURING PAIL.—A very handy thing is a pail so graduated and marked that one can tell at a glance how many quarts of fruit or milk are in it. A six quart pail can be measured carefully and then marked with a little ridge running around the pail—made by running a groove on the side of the tin, like the ridges that are put on stove pipe. Any good tinsmith can make one and make it accurately enough to serve as a measure for quarts. Pails thus marked become almost indispensable.

Oregon cargoes [illegible] prompt shipment are quotable in Liverpool at [illegible] per quarter—ditto in Cork 48s. The European markets are all reported dull and cargoes on shipment find slow sale.

The local finance market is undisturbed and no probabilities of any material fluctuation at least until the resumption of navigation [illegible] is now more seriously [illegible] of all classes than usual [illegible]. The inquirers for loanable funds are [illegible] in the market and bankers and lenders [illegible] waiting the re-animation of business matters.

The passage of the finance bill by Congress and its approval by the President so far seem to have effected but very little and according to all reports from the East monetary and commercial matters are moving along [illegible] for. One of the leading [illegible] of the East says the immediate effect of the bill will be [illegible] the business of the country should call for more currency but its ultimate result will be specie payment. It in effect provides the precise system of ultimately securing resumption that we have advocated. That is it gives enough currency to promote the rapid development of the resources of the country and through this to attain specie payments. We have not considered a legal enactment especially necessary to this end but if it pleases any to have such a law on the statute books we do not specially object. We do not, however believe that this will relieve us at once from the business depression under which the country labors—confidence being essential to that. But it will contribute to the development of the necessary conditions for resuming specie payments and this is a great deal.

Trade Matters

Generally as far as our home market is concerned seem as quiet almost as though it were all Sunday nor can any improvement be expected until the river opens and this event seems now not the most probable of the things of the near future. Prices in all leading articles of export are very dull and quotations would be nominal if given as no significant transactions are occurring. In the line of provisions some articles are getting to be less plentiful, and are held at higher figures but retail dealers decline to make large orders for future delivery predicting a decline when transportation can once more be had. Prices for fruits and vegetables are regulated by the immediate wants of buyers and are quite unsteady.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—No transactions are taking place in our market. Exporters are still uncertain to some extent as to when they will be able to get purchases already made off their hands and are advising their agents in the interior to proceed cautiously owing to the depressed condition of the English market for [illegible] cargoes. As soon, however, as the ice [illegible] a number of [illegible] may be expected to begin loading both here and at Astoria and stocks of both wheat and [illegible] which somewhat accumulated during the first half of this month will move off quite rapidly. Not until then can [illegible] any activity in this market. Nominal quotations at present are $1 [illegible] 37½ by exporters while millers still quote choice lots at $1 [illegible] per cental.

FLOUR—Receipts during the past ten days have averaged light not perhaps exceeding the wants of the local trade but stocks at hand are quite large. We quote best extra at $4 [illegible] 75 in jobbing lots while cargoes might be secured on better terms for the buyer. Good country and outside brands are quotable at $4[illegible] fine and superfine $3 [illegible] ₩ barrel.

BARLEY—Common feed barley is quoted in this market at $1 25 ₩ 100 lbs while choice lots of chevalier command an advance on these figures say $1 [illegible] all quotations including sacks. There are but a few lots in store here, and sales are dull.

OATS—There is hardly as brisk a demand for shipping as existed a fortnight ago and though prices remain at 50 cents per bushel for choice lots [illegible] none others will bring it.

FEED—There is an ample supply of feed for the requirements of the trade and shipments being off the hard weather has moved prices but little. Bran is quotable at $[illegible] ₩ ton. Shorts $[illegible] 50 and middlings chops, etc at $27 50 oil cake at $30.

POTATOES—Some dealers held at fancy prices during the cold weather and jobbing was done at $1@1 25 per bushel but such prices cannot be maintained. Quotable at [illegible]@$1 ₩ bushel for good.

ONIONS—The market is quiet at $1@1 25 ₩ 100 lbs. There is only a limited demand shipments being very slow.

RIPE APPLES—There are very few in market which are held at $1@1 [illegible] ₩ box.

DRIED APPLES—The supply is large and quotations are furnished at the same figures given last week.

BACON—The market is again full with much of the new product, and prices show a weaker tendency. Sides quotable at 11@12 cents ₩ lb, shoulders 7[illegible]@9c hams 14@16c.

LARD—In tins, choice lots are quoted at 13@14 cents ₩ lb. In kegs 11½@12½c. There is but a dull demand.

DRESSED HOGS—With the passage of the packing season prices appear to have a declining direction, and we quote to day at 6@6½ cents ₩ lb.

MUTTON SHEEP—The market is but meagerly supplied with choice on account of the bad weather for driving, quotable at $3@4 25 ₩ head.

BEEF CATTLE—Choice lots are scarcer and quotable at $[illegible]@4 net on foot, common $[illegible] ₩ 100 lbs.

BUTTER—With light receipts of choice the market is firm at 35@40c ₩ lb for best, 25@35c for fair lots and 25c for common.

EGGS—Receipts are increasing during the past two days, and prices have dropped to [illegible] ₩ dozen with a prospect of going lower.

CHICKENS—Prices ran up to near $5 ₩ dozen the latter part of last week but at present are dropping, being quotable at $4@4 50 with a duller demand.

TALLOW—We quote at $6 00@6 50 ₩ 100 lbs and in good demand.

HIDES AND FURS—A duller demand for shipping purposes prevails and receipts are light. We quote for choice dry 16½c ₩ lb; green [illegible] salted 7c; [illegible] culls [illegible] elk 22c ₩ lb deer 18@30c ₩ lb dried and 50@75c apiece green mink skins, each $1@1 50 otter $5@6 beaver 75c@$1.

WOOL—In this staple there are comparatively few transactions to note. Prices are unchanged ranging from 20@30c for good to choice.

General Merchandise.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues.—Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs Colds Consumption that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY & COLOR

Advancing years sickness, care disappointment and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor by long and extensive use has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately often renews the growth and always surely restores its color when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy weak or sickly hair becomes glossy pliable and strengthened lost hair regrows with lively expression falling hair is checked and established thin hair thickens and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff heals all humors and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies hair the Vigor is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.
